EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy in Education, 2009

King's College London, UK

Degree in the Area of Science Education

Dissertation Title: Argue-WISE: Exploring young students' features of argumentation within a socio-scientific issue when they engage with an on-line learning environment

Advisors: Dr. Jonathan Osborne & Dr. Justin Dillon

Masters in Science Education, 2005

Department of Educational Sciences, University of Cyprus, Cyprus

Degree in the Area of Science Education

Thesis Title: Using inquiry software to explore undergraduate students' understanding and development of system thinking skills

Advisor: Dr. Zacharias Zacharia

Diploma in Multimedia Computing, 2003

Department of Computer Science, Intercollege, Cyprus

Bachelors of Arts in Education, 2000

University of Cyprus, Nicosia, Cyprus

Thesis Title: Young students difficulties in the night/day cycle, and moon phase formation

Advisor: Dr Constantinos Constantinou

POSITIONS HELD

Visiting Lecturer at the University of Cyprus, September 2015- December 2015

Assistant Professor, University of Nicosia, 2012-today
Lecturer, University of Nicosia, 2009-2012
Lecturer, King's College London, UK, 2008-2009
Research Associate, Center for Informal Learning and Schools (CILS), King's College London, UK, 2005-2008
Research and Teaching Associate, Learning in Physics Group, University of Cyprus, 2003-2005
Elementary School Teacher, 2000-2003

MEMBER OF PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS

- Member of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Research in Science Teaching (2012-2015)
- Member of the NARST Dissertation Award Committee (2011-2013)
- ESERA Chair for the Pre-Service Teachers Strand (2014-today)
- ESERA Chair for the Argumentation and Discourse Strand (2011-2013)
- Temporary President of the Scientific Literacy Community Cyprus
- National Association for Research in Science Teaching (NARST)
- European Association for Research on Learning and Instruction (EARLI)
- European Science Education Research Association (ESERA)
- Association for Science Education, UK (ASE)
- American Educational Research Association (AERA)

RESEARCH INTERESTS:

My research focuses on exploring and enhancing young students' argumentation and system thinking skills within science education with the use of technology. More specifically, the emphasis of my work is on young students' talk when they engage in the discussion of socio-scientific or controversial issues. Recently I have also started to explore: (a) how teachers (pre- and in-service) combine science with everyday life, and (b) the role of visual evidence in science.

RESEARCH AND RESEARCH FUNDING

ENGAGE: Equipping the Next Generation for Active Engagement in Science (2013-2016)

Role: Local coordinator, Researcher

FP7-SCIENCE-IN-SOCIETY-2013-1 (European Union)

Budget: 2 million euros

MASCIL: Mathematics and Science for Life (2013-2017)

Role: Researcher on consortium team

Grant Agreement Number: 320693

Budget: 4 million euros

MaT²SMc: Materials for Teaching Together: Science and Mathematics Teachers collaborating for better results (2013 – 2015)

Role: Researcher

Life Long Learning Programme Comenius/Multilateral (European Union)

Budget: 404,430 euros

PreSEES: Preparing Educators for Everyday Science (2012-2014)

Role: Wrote the Proposal, Coordinating Project, Researcher

Life Long Learning Programme Comenius (European Union)

Reference Number: 526428-LLP-1-2012-1-CY-COMENIUS-CMP

Budget: 317, 076

Technoskepsi: A web-based curriculum on argumentation (2006-2008)

Cyprus Research Promotion Foundation, Doctoral Students' grant

Role: Primary Researcher

140,000 Euro

OIKOSKEPSI: Developing system thinking skills through environmental scenario (2004-2005)

Cyprus Research Promotion Foundation, Research Students' grant (awarded to Maria Evagorou and Christiana Nicolaou)

Role: Primary Researcher

180,000 Euro

AWARDS/ DISTINCTIONS

- Journal of Research in Science Teaching Paper (2013) on argumentation was chosen by NSTA in 2014 as "Research Worth Reading" for its teacher audience.
- ESERA Scholarship 2011 to collaborate with Professor Sibel Erduran, University of Bristol
- ESERA Travel Scholarship 2009 to collaborate with Professor Maria Pilar Jimenez Aleixandre, University of Santiago de Compostela
- NARST International Committee Award, 2009
- Paper Award at the World Conference on Educational Multimedia, Hypermedia and Telecommunications, July 2008
- Outstanding Paper Award for Graduate Student Research Paper, Science and Teaching AERA SIG, March 2008
- Rosalind Driver Studentship, Rosalind Driver Fund, UK, September 2005-August 2008 (75 000 UK)
- Roberts Money Award, King's College, London, April 2006
- Sargeaunt Travel Award, King's College, London, March 2006

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

- I was invited by the Cyprus Pedagogical Institute to design and carry out a series of seminars on scientific practices from November 2014 – January 2015. As part of the seminars I observe how participants change their teaching practices in their classes (classroom observations). At the end of the school year the participant teachers will present their experiences at a conference.
- External member of the committee for a number of MA students at the University of Cyprus.
- External evaluator for the Esthonian Research Promotion Foundation for 2014.
- President of the Scientific Literacy Community in Cyprus.
- External evaluator for a PhD thesis for the University Santiago de Compostela, Spain.
- I participated as the expert researcher in a number of MERA projects (students in research) funded by the Cyprus Research Foundation.
- I participated in the field experience evaluation of a number of primary and pre-primary school students from January 2010 until today.
- In January 2009- April 2012 I served as an e-mentor for a virtual science fair organized by Near East South Asia Council of Overseas Schools (NESAS).
- I have participated in “writing research proposal’ workshops at King’s College London in April and May 2009.
- In May 2007 I participated in the data collection process of the “Material Science” project at Tate Modern Gallery in London. The emphasis of this project is to explore ways in which to engage the visitors of the gallery in the process of thinking about the properties of materials that the artists use in their work.
- From January 2007- April 2007 I served as an e-mentor for a virtual science fair organized by Near East South Asia Council of Overseas Schools (NESAS).
- In March 2007 I participated at Café Scientifique in London – an event organized by British Council in collaboration with scientists and teachers all over the world.

During the event I served as one of the facilitators for a videoconference discussion between two schools in Brazil and one school in London.

- In 2005-2008 I participated in seminars organized by iGRAD (Graduate Skills Development Program) at King's College, London. More specifically I attended the following sessions: (a) Effective CV's, Applications and Interviews, (b) Teaching small groups, (c) Defend research outcomes.
